

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHO DOES BF WORK WITH / PROVIDE OPPORTUNITIES FOR?

Beyond Face works with black and global majority people based in the South West of England.

WHAT DOES BEYOND FACE HAVE TO OFFER ARTISTS?

There are several ways artists can engage and develop with us.

If you have early work or ideas that you would like to test out in front of an audience, you can apply to be part of our scratch nights! These happen across the South-West. You can also benefit from 4 hours of pre or post show support, in the form of mentoring, dramaturgical feedback and/or any other support we can offer in that time on funding, branding etc. If you are interested in developing as a writer, you can join We are Here to Write, our writers group.

The group meets fortnightly and is a mixture of masterclasses, creative led sessions and peer-to-peer support and feedback. There are plenty of opportunities to write and to share the work you've written.

If you are looking for training and development in theatre-making, including workshop facilitation, devising, producing and networking, the Beyond Ensemble could be for you. The group will meet for regular sessions.

To find out more about all the above opportunities, get in touch!

DO YOU OFFER SUPPORT FOR WRITERS?

Yes! We run a writers group for global majority writers that meets fortnightly on Wednesday evenings mostly online but sometimes in person. It is a supportive community designed to develop both your writing and you as a writer. There are masterclasses with industry professionals, creatives sessions led by the Beyond Face team as well as peer-to-peer sessions to share your work with the group. There are also opportunities to see your work directed, rehearsed and performed as part of an evening of rehearsed readings. We also will soon have a script reading window providing feedback on your play scripts

I WANT TO LEARN MORE ABOUT THEATRE-MAKING OUTSIDE OF A DEGREE/ EDUCATIONAL SETTING. DO YOU HAVE ANYTHING FOR ME?

Yes! The Beyond Ensemble is a group of like-minded people looking to gain/develop new skills in a range of industry skills including devising, producing, workshop facilitation. The group will meet regularly for workshop sessions and work together on creating a theatre production.

WHERE ARE BEYOND FACE BASED?

We are a South West England based company and we work on projects throughout the region from Cornwall all the way up to Gloucester!
